

Major changes in the WACOMA modules as a result of the COVID-19 state of alarm:

Module title: Communication Science

Lecturer(s) full name(s): Sokratis Papaspyrou

Chosen online teaching method(s):

Online videos. Live videoconferencing. Exercises and assignments in the Virtual Campus.

Major changes in the evaluation method with respect to official planning as a direct consequence of the state of alarm (*):

None really.

The assignments will be the same initially planned. However, most of the student's work was presented in class and evaluated by the professor and peers. Now they will have to record their presentations, do the written exercises and post them on the campus virtual for them to be evaluated.
